A CARILLON is a musical instrument consisting of at least two octaves of carillon bells arranged in chromatic series and played from a keyboard permitting control of expression through variation of touch. A carillon bell is a cast, bronze, cup-shaped bell whose partial tones are in such harmonious relationship to each other as to permit many such bells to be sounded together, in varied chords, with harmonious and concordant effect.

About this Index

This index combines authors, titles of articles, and subjects in one alphabetical list.

Authors are listed in regular type, titles are listed in italics, and

SUBJECTS ARE LISTED IN CAPITAL LETTERS.

Articles about a person appear before those written by the person. Titles beginning with numbers appear in their alphabetical place, as though the number were written out. If several titles in a row begin with numbers (as happens with years), the titles are listed in numerical order. To find information about a particular carillon, look under CARILLONS, then the country and city of the instrument, e.g.:

The Carillons of North America by Robert Donnell, 11:2, Apr 1948, 32

Only the following volumes have two issues: II, III, IV, VI*, X, XI, XII, XIII, XVII. If there is only one for a certain year, the month of publication is omitted.

Early copies of the Bulletins issued in January, 1952 and in June, 1952 were incorrectly numbered V:1 and V:2 respectively. These two issues have since been renumbered and are listed in this Index as VI:1 and VI:2*, respectively. The December, 1950, issue remains Vol. V (marked V*, 1950).
