TERMS OF USE

The PDF files which constitute the online edition of this publication are subject to the following terms of use:

(1) Only the copy of each file which is resident on the GCNA Website is sharable. That copy is subject to revision at any time without prior notice to anyone.

(2) A visitor to the GCNA Website may download any of the available PDF files to that individual's personal computer via a Web browser solely for viewing and optionally for printing at most one copy of each page.

(3) A file copy so downloaded may not be further reproduced or distributed in any manner, except as incidental to the course of regularly scheduled backups of the disk on which it temporarily resides. In particular, it may not be subject to file sharing over a network.

(4) A print copy so made may not be further reproduced.

CONTENTS

The main purpose of this publication is to identify and describe all of the traditional carillons in the world. But it also covers electrified carillons, chimes, rings, zvons and other instruments or collections of 8 or more tower bells (even if not in a tower), and other significant tower bells.

The complete publication (online version) consists of, and the Terms of Use apply to, the following PDF files:

Commonly called the Afghan Church

because it is dedicated to British soldiers killed in the Afghan campaigns of 1838-42; consecrated 1848.
Bells cast 1903; treble recast 1914.
Foundry supplied complete fittings for change ringing as well as Ellacombe chiming, but some ringing fittings were never installed by locals, so bells were never rung full-circle.

Another cast in 1389 by order of the first Ming Dynasty emperor, nearly 360 cm high and 240 cm diameter, weight over 20 metric tons; extant. (Three others, made about the same time, and presumably similar, have disappeared.)  OSAKA, Japan

In the temple is a bell of 114000 kg cast in 1903.

PEKING (Beijing), China
A bell of 56000 kg, cast in 1404 by Yao Kuang-hsiao, hangs in the Temple of the Great Bell.

PYONG-YANG, Korea
In the city center is a bell of 10 tons cast in 1727.

RANGOON, Burma
The bell "Maha Ganda" (Sweet Voice) was cast in 1791 for Shwe Dagon; weight estimated at 16 tons. Another bell, 42 tons, was cast 1840.

SEOUL, Korea
Buksoo Palace grounds hold the Queen's Bell, cast in 1462, 250cm high and 172cm diameter. At Chong-ro, the ancient main central intersection in the city, is a temple bell cast in 1468, 280cm high, 228cm diameter.

WELLINGTON, New Zealand
The five basses of the War Memorial Carillon are as follows:
D# 27000 lb (1995)
F 8.2 ton (1995)
F# 7 ton (1995)
G 6 ton (1995)
G# 11129 lb (1929, G&J)
The four new basses were subcontracted by Whitechapel to Eijsbouts, and cast to G&J profiles using G&J decorations and bronze mix; the largest (at least) exceeded the capacity of Eijsbouts' furnaces and was cast at the NV Lips foundry for the casting of ships' propellers. It is the largest bell ever cast in the Netherlands.
