

GCNA Bulletin Submission Guidelines

Editorial Policy

The Bulletin of the Guild of Carillonneurs in North America is a member-driven journal. The Bulletin encourages submissions on subjects including, but not limited to, carillon and campanological history, composer and performer biographies, musical criticism, GCNA and WCF congress reports, technical campanological research, book and recording reviews, and review articles. Although the Bulletin concentrates on practices, events, and people in North America, it welcomes submissions pertaining to the carillon throughout the world.

Submissions

Authors should send proposals in an email message to John Bordley, editor of the Bulletin: jbordley@sewanee.edu. The proposal should be about 100 words in length, provide an overview of the topic, and mention supporting photographs and other illustrations and figures that would accompany the article. Bordley will send the proposal to committee members and ask them whether they think the author should be asked to continue work on the article. After receiving the comments from the committee members, he will notify the author promptly. If the answer is affirmative, the author will then be asked to send the complete article in electronic form, preferably as a Microsoft Word file. A final decision about publishing the article will then be made. All images should be scanned at a resolution of 300 dpi or higher and the files sent with the article. Scans of photographs should be in jpeg format. Some tables, music examples, and figures may be better sent as pdf files. Extensive formatting is not required, as the editor will apply the styles used by the Bulletin. Beginning with Volume 60 (2011), authors should use the source citations that follow. Footnotes are required, where appropriate; a bibliography is requested but not required.

Source Citation

The Bulletin uses the notes and bibliography system explained in chapter fourteen of the Chicago Manual of Style, sixteenth edition. This system provides a method for writing footnotes and an optional end bibliography. Please see the Chicago Manual of Style website for a free citation quick guide:

http://www.chicagomanualofstyle.org/tools_citationguide.html

Additional examples regarding basic footnote and bibliography formatting are available from Bordley.

The full bibliographic entry for a source needs to be given only once in the footnotes and once in the end bibliography. Complete information should appear in the first note in which the source is referenced, and subsequent notes should refer to the source in a shortened form. Source entries for footnotes and the end bibliography are formatted differently—both cases are given in the examples below. Entries for the end bibliography should be alphabetized according to the author's last name.

Book with one or more authors. The author's name(s) appears first, which is followed by the book title in italics. Next the facts of publication appear: the city of the publisher's main offices (usually listed first on the title or copyright pages), the name of the publisher, and the year of publication. In the second example the original years of the publication are followed by "repr." indicating that the book was reprinted. Following the publication information are the specific pages referenced. Note the placement of punctuation.

Footnotes

1. Percival Price, Bells & Man (Oxford: Oxford University Press, 1983), 208.
2. Eric Sloane and Eric Hatch, A Celebration of Bells (1964, 1966; repr., Mineola, NY: Dover Publications, Inc., 2009), 89-95.

Shortened references in subsequent footnotes

3. Price, Bells & Man, 174-79.
4. Sloane and Hatch, A Celebration of Bells, 101-5.

Bibliographic entries

Price, Percival. Bells & Man. Oxford: Oxford University Press, 1983.
Sloane, Eric and Eric Hatch. A Celebration of Bells. 1964, 1966. Reprint, Mineola, NY: Dover Publications, Inc., 2009.

Editor or translator in addition to an author. The editor's and/or translator's name(s) follow the title of the book.

Footnotes

5. Nora Johnston, A Memoir, ed. Jill Johnston (New York: Print Means Inc., 2002), 61-68.
6. Alain Corbin, Village Bells: Sound and Meaning in the 19th-Century French Countryside, trans. Martin Thom (New York: Columbia University Press, 1998), 218-223.

Shortened references in subsequent footnotes

7. Johnston, A Memoir, 25.
8. Corbin, Village Bells, 186. [Note the abbreviated title in the shortened reference]

Bibliographic entries

Johnston, Nora. A Memoir. Edited by Jill Johnston. New York: Print Means Inc., 2002.

Corbin, Alain. Village Bells: Sound and Meaning in the 19th-Century French Countryside. Translated by Martin Thom. New York: Columbia University Press, 1998.

Article in a journal. After the journal title follows the volume number, then the issue number and year. The page numbers of the article follow the year.

Footnotes

9. Linda Dzuris, "Geoffrey Cook: A Composer Spotlight," Bulletin of the Guild of Carillonneurs in North America 55 (2006): 25-27. [Since the Bulletin publishes only one issue per year, there is no issue number]
10. Janet S. Dundore, "The Carillon," Journal of Church Music 17, no. 1 (1975): 2-5.

Shortened references in subsequent footnotes

11. Dzuris, "Geoffrey Cook," 25-27.
12. Dundore, "The Carillon," 2-5.

Bibliographic entries

Dzuris, Linda. "Geoffrey Cook: A Composer Spotlight." Bulletin of the Guild of Carillonneurs in North America 55 (2006): 25-27.

Dundore, Janet S. "The Carillon." Journal of Church Music 17, no. 1 (1975): 2-5.

Article in a newspaper. The author (if known), headline, month, day, and year should be included. Because a single paper may be published in several different editions, page numbers may be omitted. A website address should be provided if the article was viewed online.

Footnotes

13. Susan Dibble, "Naperville Carillon Attracts Performers from around the World," Daily Herald, June 23, 2011, <http://www.dailyherald.com/article/20110623/news/706239930/>

Shortened references in subsequent footnotes

13. Dibble, "Naperville Carillon Attracts Performers," June 23, 2011.

Bibliographic entries

Dibble, Susan. "Naperville Carillon Attracts Performers from around the World." Daily Herald. June 23, 2011.
<http://www.dailyherald.com/article/20110623/news/706239930/>.

Website. Include as much of the following information as possible: title or description of webpage, author, owner or sponsor of the site, and a URL. If possible, include a publication or revision date. If none is available, include an access date.

Footnotes

14. "The House of Commons Heritage Collection: The Carillon," Parliament of Canada, last modified March 2011,
<http://www.parl.gc.ca/About/House/Collections/carillon-e.htm>. [No discernible author]

Shortened references in subsequent footnotes

15. "The House of Common Heritage Collection: The Carillon," March 2011.

Bibliographic entries

Parliament of Canada. "The House of Commons Heritage Collection: The Carillon." Last modified March 2011.
<http://www.parl.gc.ca/About/House/Collections/carillon-e.htm>.

Personal interview. The person interviewed comes first, followed by the interviewer. The place and date of the interview should follow, if known.

Footnotes

16. Frank DellaPenna, interview by Charis Lasky, January 12, 2011.

No shortened references necessary

Personal interviews not included in bibliographies

Personal correspondence. These citations are similar to those for personal interviews.

Footnotes

17. Richard Watson, letter to John Bordley, February 12, 2011.
18. Larry Weinstein, e-mail to author, December 10, 2011. [e-mail addresses of individuals should not be divulged in citation references]

No shortened references necessary

Personal correspondence not included in bibliographies